

the body, with which the deceased had unquestionably blown out his brains.

By Telegram to the New-York Tribune

Special Arrived by the Europa. Movements.
the President. Hon. Daniel Webster, &
Boston, Wednesday, Sept. 17, 1851.
The Steamship Europa brings $36,000 in specie consigned to order.
Hon. Daniel Webster is in the city, and is expected to be present with the President and Cabinet at the State House, on Friday afternoon, the receipt of the President's letter. Governor Huntwell, of New York, and several, reached the city here at Roxbury about noon. His reception at Fall River, Dorchester and Acorn was most enthusiastic.

The Texas Debt, &c.
WASHINGTON, Wednesday, Sept. 17, 1863.
The Secretary of the Treasury, in a letter to G. Hamilton, for the creditors of Texas, states that the President has decreed:
That all the bonds, or railroads of the indebted State can be delivered to Texas, until releases are filed the Treasury for all that portion of the Texas debt which was issued prior to Jan. 14, 1848.
Second: That all issues of Texas Bonds certificate stock Texas Bonds, made receivable for public dues, or claims within the meaning of the Act of Congress and releases for all such must be filed in the Treasury before they can be justified in delivering the remainder.
The Howard District Court yesterday discharged the witnesses from this city arrested Gen. Chaplin the $19,000 having been forfeited and paid to the State of Maryland.

Fugitive Slave Case in Philadelphia.
PHILADELPHIA, Wednesday, Sept. 17, 1863.
A hearing was held before the Federal Commissioner Ingraham, of the case of Abraham Hall, arrested not, and claimed as the property of John Slade, Harford County, Md. The hearing resulted in a being remanded to the county jail. He admits being a slave, and expresses his willingness to return to his master.

TRIALS FOR MURDER.

Trial of Michael Mulvey.

COURT OF OVER AND TERMINER—Before Judge Kenesaw and A. J. S. W. and J. S. W. and J. S. W.

The trial of Michael Mulvey, indicted for the murder of a man at the corner of Chatham and Orange streets set down for yesterday, but owing to the indisposition of one of his counsel, and also of a witness for the prosecution, was postponed till to-day.

The District Attorney said he was ready to proceed with the trial of John D. Brown, indicted with Joseph C. C. (accused on Tuesday) for the murder of Mr. Gillespie on the Fourth Ward.

Mr. Morris asked time to say a word to Brown, (who was present, and after speaking with him, Mr. C. continued the trial.)

[illegible]

Mr. DAVIS said there was another woman, who was the father with him who could establish what I have stated, so that it does not rest on his own declaration.

It was remarked by the Court, that both statements vary from the testimony, and the case was referred to Mr. Morris, the Attorney General.

Mr. Morris said the Attorney then said he would move for judgment on the plea of assault, &c.

Mr. Vanderpoort, the Clerk, then directed Brown to state the facts, and he said he had to say why judgment should not be pronounced?

Brown replied that he had nothing more to say, only that he was innocent.

The Judge remarked to him that the whole evidence shows that he was a liar, and that he was a man of bad character, and that he had resulted the death of one of our Police officers, and probably also will result the death of another—so that your conduct, therefore, has been very bad, and that you have been guilty of a crime, and you have been guilty of disturbing the peace, and are the cause of the death of one of our Police officers and of your own death, and that you have been guilty of a crime, and you are guilty of the whole extent of the law, in relation to this plea, should not be carried out. The sentence is, that you shall be hanged by the neck, and be dead.

Brown, after a moment or two, said, "Yes, Sir, I have said it, if he thought he had not said better than he expected. Nothing being ready, the Court proceeded to this morning.

ARGUMENT OF GOV. SEWARD ON THE MICHIGAN RAILROAD CASE. FRIDAY, THE DETROIT

and's argument for the defense in the Central Railroad conspiracy case.

"GOV. SEWARD'S SPEECH."—Gov. Seward commenced his argument in the Railroad case, yesterday, and has not yet concluded. As soon as it was known yesterday afternoon, that the ladies were to be present, they waited until ladies and gentlemen came, and although the heat of the day was almost suffocating, the audience retained their seats with almost breathless interest.

"This morning, long before the hour for the case to meet, our citizens were on the move for the Court-room, and by 8 o'clock the hall was nearly filled. Among them a great many ladies. By 9 o'clock, the spectators had increased rapidly, and by 10 o'clock the hall was filled to the top. We never witnessed such a desire to fully understand an event interred by the distinguished counsel. Among the audience were seen many visitors from Indiana, Illinois, and Ohio, and the interior of the Court-room from present indication, he will increase today.

"He is an exceedingly distinct speaker, with a most eloquent and expressive and minute detail. His high reputation as a sound reasoner is acknowledged by all who are present. We shall endeavor to lay his remarks before our readers, as soon as the reporter can write out his notes.

Messrs. Van Arman, Stuart and Van Dyke, argued for the prosecution, and Messrs. Frink, Howard and Seward, for the defendants. It is supposed the trial will soon be concluded.

"This morning he calls himself Bois. Re

The above statement confirms that the man, who was picked up in the streets of the city two weeks since, raving mad. He is somewhat better, but is still unable to give a connected account of himself. From papers found on him, it is believed that he was agent for the Agate Copper Company, Lake Superior, and that he was on his way to visit his mother, when he says he has not seen for several years. He is 22 or 23 years of age, and has evidently been well brought up.

The above statement confirms that the man, who was picked up in the streets of the city two weeks since, raving mad. He is somewhat better, but is still unable to give a connected account of himself. From papers found on him, it is believed that he was agent for the Agate Copper Company, Lake Superior, and that he was on his way to visit his mother, when he says he has not seen for several years. He is 22 or 23 years of age, and has evidently been well brought up.

dollars at once, and with his money he came over to this place some three weeks ago, and he came to visit his friends. His manner of acquisition of it is very curious. It seems to have been in much for his exorbitant temperament, and he was thought by some to be deranged on the subject of profitable income before he left this part of the country.

(Lase Superior Journal)

THE SARANAC AT HAVANA.—A private letter received in Charleston states that the Saranac arrived at Havana, and that Commodore Pixer had requested an interview with the Captain General for himself and Seaf, but that up to the time of the sailing of the Arcturion, it had not taken place. The two parties were treated politely, although in consequence of considerable excitement still existing, business in a great measure was suspended.

The Charleston Courier says that the four prisoners released by the Cuban authorities, was Jan. Cantley, who for want of sentence of imprisonment for a term of years in Charleston jail, from which he escaped some time since, and went to New-Orleans.

THE WEATHER.—The thermometer here for the last few days—been ranging from 85 to 92 in the shade. The weather has been very pleasant, and the atmosphere has been, accompanied by some very brilliant electrical phenomena, in the shape of lightning, and the most extraordinary corrosion of the Antrim Borealis.

(Montreal Courier)

THE CROPS OF HEMP, WHEAT, COAL AND OIL in western Missouri will this year yield of the much average yield by Missouri.